Mr. A. Lisner Opposes Higher Duty on Hosiery and Gloves.

Editor The Washington Herald: An ominous incident the other day-the request of an opposition Senator to have the hosiery schedule suspended-draws the inference that higher rates of duty may be again injected in the Payne bill affecting hosiery and gloves.

Being one of the many advocates of a protective tariff, I am also one of the multitude desiring justice; and knowing 7:30 o'clock in the evening. that the duties, which average 56.65 per cent, are already sufficiently high, and that consumers should not be required to Washington Herald are based upon its pay greater prices for gloves or hosiery, visitors be requested to sign, and that these petitions be sent to the Senate committee.
